In a short span of 16 years DPS Guwahati has not only earned a name for quality education in the region but at national level too. It has won the confidence of the stake holders of the society and has proved itself in academics, sports and performing arts. The leadership of the Principal and extra ordinary diligence of the teachers ought to attract appreciation. As the school has stood the test of time over the years by not only being number 1 in North East in academics, but also in having promoted an all round growth amongst the students. We continue to uphold traditional values and the school is an amalgamation of competent teachers, state of the art infrastructure, an idyllic setting and experienced and efficient administration. Teachers and other staff members have worked relentlessly for the growth and development of the institution under the guidance of the Principal.

I wish all the best to the Principal & her team of teachers for the new session.

Ram Awtar Agarwalla
Pro Vice Chairman MC DPS Guwahati

The future is definitely impatient and the Indian society is at a crossroad of facing great challenges. One of many challenges before us is that far too many students lack access to a high-quality education; still others are unable to achieve their full potential. Certainly then the responsibility lies on schools. DPSG aims to fix this gap by providing a platform that is conducive to hone students' full potential. We are lucky that we have some great teachers who have fierce hunger for creative solutions to long-standing problems, and who can bring transformational change in our schools and school systems.

While our mission may be to be “beyond excellence”, our goal is to change the world through education. This inspires our teaching and responsibility towards society. The school is driven by the belief that providing ample educational opportunities is one of the most fundamental obligations each generation owes to the ones that follow; and that every child deserves a high-quality education.

DPSG persistently makes a genuine difference to the world. The tradition of innovation that has marked the school is as vibrant as ever. Our students and faculty are diverse in our outlook and our approach. With the parents' help, we will begin the next chapter in the new academic session in the life of school education that has been, and will continue to be, like no other.

Together, we will learn to change the world.

Thank you for your trust on us.

It seemed a difficult task to compare and select a good school for my two kids in class 9th and 6th, who came to join me mid-session last year in Guwahati from Delhi. However, in her first visit to DPS Guwahati, my daughter could relate quickly to the curriculum, the sprawling campus and the ambiance, which seemed much akin to their school - DPS RK Puram, in Delhi and that made our task easier in coming to a decision. And in hindsight I think the selection was correct, since change from Delhi to Guwahati for the kids could be well managed as we found them adjusting in a short time of 4 months to the change and I am thankful to the teachers and the staff who made them comfortable.

The school is located away from the rustle bustle of the city and the quality of education is at par with the best in Guwahati. The teachers in senior classes do try and give their extra bit in after school hours too. Equipped with good safety standards and strict access control, I fondly remember the school science exhibition where the display of creativity & enthusiasm of the kids coupled with encouragement from the staff was truly par excellence. Equipped with modern sports and extra curricular facilities in the modern building, with beautiful green landscaping around, it is noteworthy that to take care of academic load, the stress on extra-curriculars has been restricted for the students in class 9th and 10th so that the children can concentrate on their board exams. This has been appreciated by most of the parents.

I wish the school and its staff, the best in their endeavour to rise up to the expectations of the parents and public at large in Guwahati in providing all round education for the children.

A second trusted home is what DPS, Guwahati is for both my children. I express my appreciation and gratitude for the Junior wing for helping my children to evolve as good human being, as I feel it is that time during which children get moulded and shaped for the future including moral build up. I also appreciate the on time completion of curriculum in middle and senior wings that shows the commitment of the faculties. I think DPS, Guwahati is one of the institutions that can boast of great resourceful team of faculty and a dynamic visionary Principal. Also the fact that it has probably the best science faculty in class XI and XII has given the parents a great sense of relief, as we know that our wards are in safe hands. Moreover I quite liked the way the school functions, its policies and professionalism. Its been long thirteen years of association and I have seen an enormous growth, hope it grows more and more and provide an ideal platform to showcase the talents of the children of north-eastern region and help them compete in national and international level.

The teachers are blessed with a talent that no one can match. Teachers, I wish God gives you much more strength and courage to do what you are destined to. Finally I thank you all for making a difference in our children's lives.

My son last year took admission in class 3. Being quite away from my home, I was initially hesitant. It turned out to be a good decision.

Our ancient civilization prospered for thousands of year because our teaching were based on question-answer, raising inquiries, doubts and holding discussion between Guru and his pupils. It was not a one way instruction. Pupils were encouraged to ask questions and if not satisfied, reject the teachings without being disrespectful. For example, in Gita, Arjuna the pupil rejects many teachings and Krishna teaches many alternatives to attain Moksha.

I am happy to note that my son feels quite comfortable with his teacher and it seems that he has no problems in communicating with his teacher. I think thats a great beginning of his student life. I thank and congratulate the school administration and the teachers.

It's been a pleasure being a part of DPS hostel family. I joined the hostel in class VII and didn't even realize how time flew. I have nearly come to the end of a beautiful chapter in my life. In the absence of our biological parents, tutors residing within the hostel premises became our guardians who supported us in all our endeavours. Following the old tradition and adding some new was a fun part of the hostel life. Here, with friends, I lived each day to the fullest without realizing that we are making memories that would last forever.

I've been associated with Delhi Public School Guwahati from the year 2015 having joined this institution in Class 9th. In these four years the guidance that I have received from my teachers has been of great help to me. They were always there to clarify any misconceptions and never hesitated to explain concepts in depth. Moreover, the excellent laboratories helped me a lot in practically understanding the intricacies of the subject matter being taught in the class. The lush and open surroundings helped a lot in relaxing my mind and refreshing me. I am very grateful to my teachers and also to my friends for providing such a wonderful environment for pursuing my interests in academics.

I remember my first day in DPSG very vividly. I couldn't speak English with fluency then the way I can now. DPSG sculpted me to a level that stage fright is now a thing of the past. Having found my forte in public speaking, I tried hard to maintain a good academic record. Although I struggled from time to time, the institution always supported me in all my endeavours. As my departure is round the corner, I can proudly say "once a dipsite, always a dipsite".

The support received by a student in school, irrespective of their interests, plays a pivotal role in moulding their personality and contributes constructively in the course of their life.

I would like to express my gratitude to the entire DPSG fraternity (especially my teachers) for providing me unflinching support and encouragement to follow my passion (Taekwondo) and excel in it. I have witnessed how DPSG grooms students in their respective interests apart from the academic excellence it injects into them. The lessons I imbibed in this institution have made me a better human being and I will cherish the memories associated with DPSG throughout my life.

I first joined DPSG back in 2012, in class VI. The first thing that struck me as a student was how friendly and communicative the teachers were. And that very year I was exposed to play drums and it soon became my passion. And thus began my "crusade" in music, representing the school many a times as a tablist and percussionist. The school essentially kick-started my career in music and the teachers, were very supportive. For that I am indebted to the school. The memories associated with this school will always remain fresh in my mind.
